

REGULATIONS FOR THE PARTICIPATION OF BIODIV STUDENTS (PhD & MSc) TO ADVANCED COURSES

If accepted into a course, BGE & BIODIV students are required to attend. In the event they cannot attend for any reason, they must promptly notify the post-graduation office (post.graduation@cibio.up.pt) at least 10 working days before the beginning date. Failure to notify the post-graduation office of their absence will result in:

- Exclusion from three future courses for BIODIV PhD students
- First-year BGE master's degree students will forfeit the opportunity to attend other courses free of charge for the current academic year.

Attendance at all course sessions is mandatory. Exceptional circumstances may justify missing sessions, but such reasons must be communicated via email to both the course coordinator and the post-graduation office. Unjustified absences from course sessions will result in a failing grade for the course.

Student participation will be formally evaluated and approved by the course instructors, based on consistent attendance at all course sessions and successful completion of course requirements and assessment tasks.
