6. EVALUATION CRITERIA

The evaluation takes into account the candidate's merit and their scientific career. Applications considered admissible will be scored on a scale of 0 to 100 for each of the following evaluation criteria:

Criterion A - Academic Background (reflecting the grades obtained in academic degrees and the overall academic curriculum), with a weight of 30%;

Criterion B - Scientific and Professional Career (reflecting scientific production, professional experience, participation in research projects, and communications in the thematic area of application), with a weight of 30%;

Criterion C - Research proposal summary (with a special focus on the analysis of the alignment with the theme, objectives, main tasks, and scientific support), with a weight of 25%;

Criterion D - Motivation Letter (based on clarity, reasons, and interest in conducting the research proposal at EBM), with a weight of 15%.

To proceed to the second evaluation phase, candidates will be ranked based on the weighted average of the scores obtained in each of the criteria according to the following formula:

$$\text{1st Phase Classification} = (0,3 \times A) + (0,3 \times B) + (0,25 \times C) + (0,15 \times D)$$

Candidates with a classification equal to or higher than 70 (seventy), up to a limit of 5 candidates per theme, will advance to the second evaluation phase. For tie-breaking purposes, the ranking of candidates will be based on the scores assigned to each evaluation criterion in the following order of precedence: Criterion C, Criterion D, Criterion A, Criterion B.

In the second evaluation phase, candidates will be assessed considering the following evaluation criteria:

Criterion E - Interview (involving questions related to the following topics: motivation, scientific reasoning, soft skills, and communication capacity), with a weight of 30%.

Criterion F - Classification obtained in the 1st evaluation phase, with a weight of 70%.

To the decision on granting the studentship, candidates will be ranked according to the weighted average of the classification obtained, per theme, as expressed by the following formula:

$$\text{Final Classification (FC)} = (0,3 \times E) + (0,7 \times F)$$

For tie-breaking purposes, the final ranking of candidates will be based on the scores assigned to each of the evaluation criteria in the following order of precedence: Criterion E and Criterion F.

Additional Information:

- The call awards 4 (four) studentships, initially distributed as one vacancy per theme (A, B, C, and D).
- Selection is based on evaluation and ranking per theme, with a common jury and criteria, with a minimum Final Classification (FC) of 70 points required for eligibility.
- Studentships are prioritized for the top-ranked candidates of each theme who meet the minimum classification.
- Vacancies in themes without eligible candidates will be reassigned, in descending order of the final classification, to the candidates with the highest scores in the global waiting list of the remaining thematic lines, regardless of the original theme. The candidate will execute the proposed working plan in the indicated theme; therefore, more than one studentship may be awarded per theme.
- In the event of a tie in this reassignment, the tie-breaking criteria will be the scores in Criterion E and Criterion F.

Important warning for candidates with degrees issued by foreign higher education institutions:

- Candidates with diplomas issued by foreign higher education institutions may apply and will be evaluated using the same criteria as candidates with diplomas issued by Portuguese institutions, provided that they present, in their application, proof of recognition of academic degrees and conversion of final classification for the Portuguese classification scale under the terms of the applicable legislation.
- Candidates with recognized foreign diplomas who do not present proof of conversion from the final classification to the Portuguese classification scale will be evaluated with the minimum classification (50 out of 100 points) in criterion (A1).
- In any case, scholarship agreements with candidates with diplomas issued by foreign institutions will only be concluded upon presentation of proof of recognition of academic degrees and conversion of the final classification, as indicated above.

Candidates whose application is evaluated with a final score of less than 70 are not eligible for a scholarship.
